

Extraordinary solutions for the future of dentistry.

Extraordinary expertise delivered by an extraordinary team.

At Swift Dental, we create dental solutions that make you and your patients smile. Because for us, knowing you're happy with our service, is the reason why we're here.

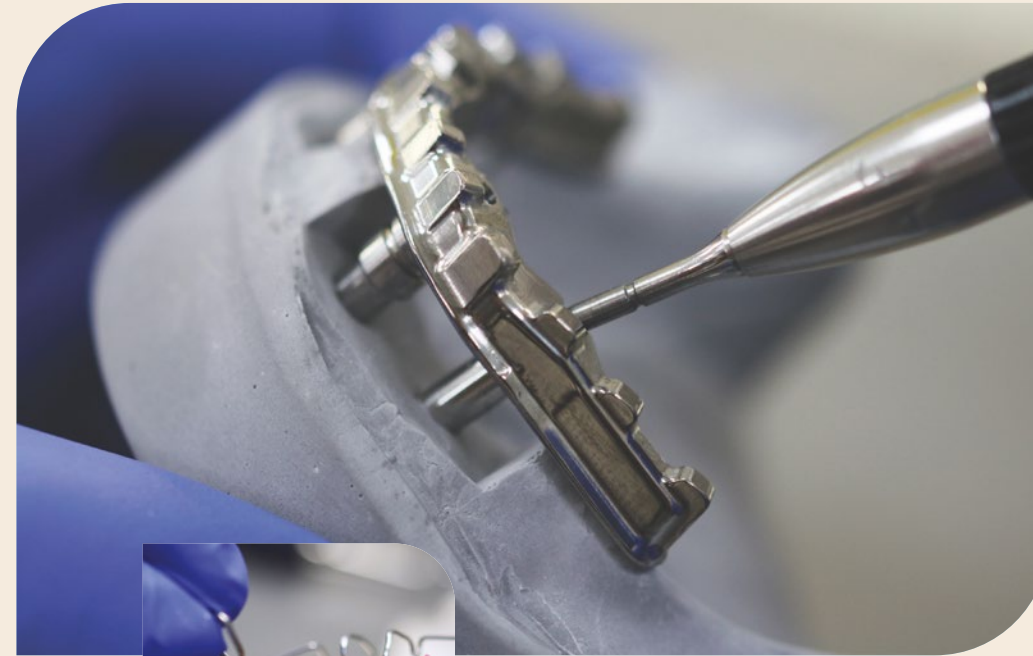

It's a different way of looking at the world.

Ever since Roy McGillivray and Mark Stevenson started out on their Swift journey way back in 1984, we've always been big on dental innovation.

Today, as the UK's largest full-service lab, we're at the forefront of transitioning the dental world to a digital future, whilst retaining the same values and the same focus on quality we started out with.

We believe in getting the small details right. We think forward about new ways to provide technical support for dentists and deliver superior logistics for greater practice efficiency and an easier dental life. Plus we always ensure our customer support goes beyond the clinical, to the truly exceptional.

We focus on researching new technology and training our technicians to the highest MHRA, GDC and DAMAS standards. This means that any solution we provide will be delivered by people who are best placed to help you.

In fact, some would say it's extraordinary.

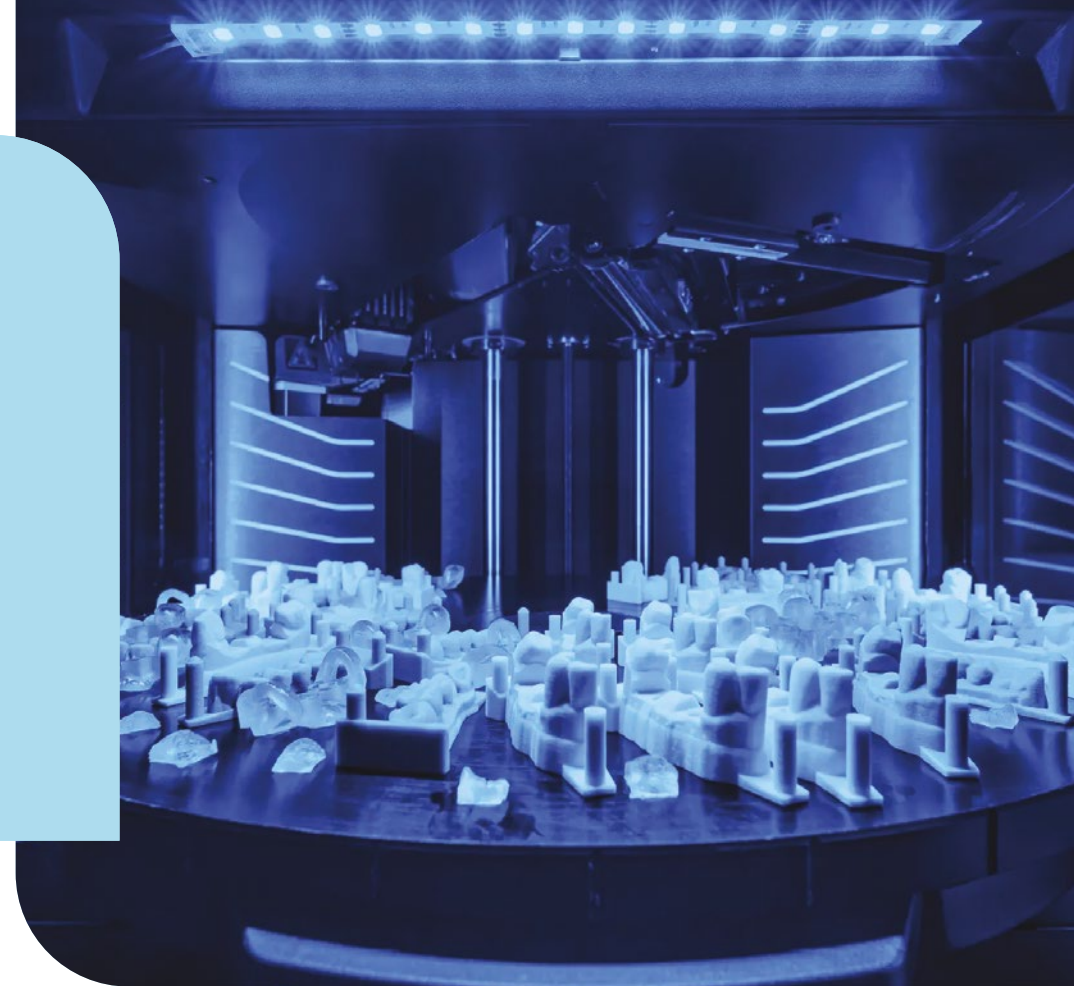

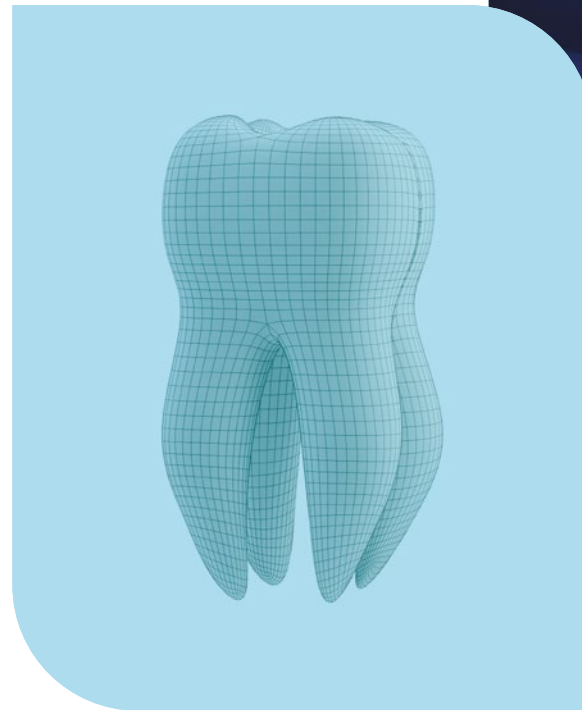

A lab equipped for the future of dentistry.

Fast-tracking a new digital future.

With Swift Dental, you know the future will be simply extraordinary.

Wherever digital dentistry goes from here, we'll be there for you, with the future-facing digital solutions you need to grow your business.

Powering your business forward with greater efficiency and enabling you to enjoy the latest advances in digital dentistry, sooner.

Our digital expertise ensures a quicker turnaround, reduced remakes and an effortlessly simple digital journey.

Into a digitally designed future. More big picture thinking from Swift.

Digital is transforming the dental world at pace and nobody is going further and faster to help dental practices to keep up with the changes that are taking place, than Swift.

Besides transforming oral technology with industry-leading ingenuity, we're able to process intraoral scans with complete precision, designing and printing the models on site and digitally designing the restoration from your STL file.

We use a range of milling machines housed in our centre. We mill all our Zirconia here in the UK as well as our chrome frameworks, Emax, precious & non-precious metalwork & PMMA.

Goodbye, impressions.

3D printing has added another dimension to our service portfolio.

From taking delivery of our very first 3D printer in 2018, we have since installed a range of state of the art printers at our facility.

We're now able to print every STL file we receive immediately and offer a better consistency, durability and aesthetic vs plaster models. Plus printing from a file allows us to reprint a model quickly, without waiting for a new impression.

As with all things Swift, it's not just our output that makes the difference, but our input too. Alongside precise, high quality 3D printed models you'll receive market-leading advice from true digital experts, making your restorations, remarkably efficient.

Hello, impressive results.

Our Products.

Most advanced implant technology
on the market.

We're fully accredited with over 20 major implant systems, with the capability to manufacture cases via both conventional and state-of-the art techniques.

Our dedicated, award-winning team of implant technicians are with you at every stage, backed by their world-leading training in this rapidly evolving field of dentistry. This unrivalled technical resource ensures that whenever close liaison is required between surgeon and laboratory, full technical support is always on hand.

To date, we have successfully transitioned many implant restorations across to in-house digital manufacture, including the milling of abutments, frameworks and bars.

Implants.

Crown & Bridge.

We manufacture a full range of restorations from private full-mouth rehabilitation cases to simple NHS crowns.

As reflected in our many awards and accreditations, all are made to exacting standards incorporating high quality, CE approved branded nickel-free materials.

We also have a dedicated team for each tier of service, so you know the level of service received will more than match your expectations.

Whatever you need to know, talk to our experienced technicians. Their ongoing professional development makes them fully conversant with the latest products and techniques.

Your requirements covered.
Your expectations, exceeded.

Saving chair time. Enhancing denture performance.

We produce a full range of prosthetic devices from full implant retained prostheses and single tooth partial denture, to Valplast flexible dentures.

Our prosthetics department offers an array of options including Enigma Life, Natura, Ivoclar and Vivodent, Myerson and Acrotone.

There is a dedicated team for each tier of service, ensuring consistently high standards, whichever service level you choose. Included in the service is the return of all finished partial dentures on duplicate models at the fit stage. Feedback suggests this minimises surgeon intervention, saving you valuable chair time.

Prosthetics.

Chrome.

Expect polished performance.
You're with Swift.

Our impressive range of chrome frameworks incorporates the latest 3D design, milling techniques and high quality materials.

In every case, prior to manufacture all cases are surveyed and blocked out digitally to ensure a precision fit.

The close working relationship with our prosthetic department ensures we maintain total control of the design and manufacture of complex attachment and implant retained cases at every stage.

Orthodontics.

Orthodontic options that tick every box.

Orthodontics covers a wide range of disciplines and techniques. To cater for this, your orthodontic appliance options will be equally wide-ranging, from the removable, fixed and functional, to all types of vacuum-formed devices.

We provide a digital study model archiving service. By utilising the latest laser scanning technology, we can convert your patient models into accurate, 3D digital images, removing the need to store physical models.

Delivering on time, every time.

We understand the day-to-day pressures you're under, which is why in department to department, from laboratory workflow to appointment planning, everything at Swift runs like clockwork.

Although these are our standard times, we appreciate that on occasion, you may require an even quicker turnaround. On those occasions, we're happy to flex our service to meet your needs, wherever possible.
